NOTICE

On account of the excellence of the work done in Norwich by the Everett Forestry Co. of Providence for many of the members of the Woman's Guild and their agreement to place one of their large power spraying outfits on the work formerly done by the Guild, notice is given to the public that the Guild has disposed of the old apparatus discontinuing the work and resomment the Everett Forestry Co. to all who are interested in the protection of their trees.

The work of the Everett Forestry Co.

Is guaranteed for the season, and the company will hold itself in readiness to re-spray any of the trees free of charge if there is any danger of damage to the foliage. Three spraying outits and sixteen workmen will be required to handle the work of the company in Norwich and the adjacent terrifory and on account of the volume of these operations here it will enable all to receive the most thorough scientific work at a nominal cost.

Trees examined and advice given ahsolutely without cost.

New London.

Being Hauled. In many parts of the town of Mont-ville the scarcity of water it being felt keenly. The mills have not yet experi-nced much of the shortage as Oxoboxo reservoir had a good supply be-fore the dry period commenced, but unless heavy rain falls soon there will be some difficulty in keeping the mills going so far as water power is concerned.

The greatest lack of water is felt in Uncasville, where wells are very low. In several instances water is being hauled to supply horses owned in the stores. William B. Walden has been under the necessity of hauling water for about two weeks to supply his horses. Farmers are complaining, too, and are afraid the grass crop will be and are afraid the grass crop will be meagre. A fine showing of fruit blos-soms will fail to mature unless water comes very soon.

Goodenough of Waterbury read a paper on Some Problems Connected With the Inspection of Schools, in which he said that the most important work for medical mentoday was connected with the growth and development of the child. Many children enter school with slight conception of hygiene. Improved school health meant less absence and more effective work on the part of the children who attend.

In thirty years there had been an extraordinary change among children

In thirty years there had been an extraordinary change among children in schools. Cities had grown rapidly, and a steady flow of European immigrants had come in. Medical inspection was not socialistic in a narrow sense. It simply gave an added force in the development of democracy. The town of Manchester has done remarkable things, but the doctors could not compel the state or the towns to put model bathrooms in each country school.

The Connecticut Medical society opened its two days' annual meeting at the Hunt Memorial, Hartford, late Wednesday afternoon, with President Frank K. Hallock of Cromwell in the chair. Dr. Frank H. Barnes read a paper on A Farm Colony for Alcoholies in Connecticut, and gave numerous statistics about farms of the kind. Dr. Henry S. Noble of Middletown opened the discussion. A bill looking for the establishment of such a farm failed of passage in this session of the general assembly because of other reformatory measures which crowded it out.

Dr. Thomas D. Crothers told the history of the fight against inchriety. Dr. Crothers affered a resolution that the president of the society appoint a committee to investigate the subject and report to the society, with the idea of eventually getting legislative action. SEVENTH ANNUAL MEETING OF MAYFLOWER CLUB Guests of Mrs. Nelson D. Robinson o New London Turnpike.

Mrs. Nelson D. Robinson entertained the members of the Mayflower club on Thursday at her home, on the New London turnpike, in a most delightful way. This was the seventh annual May meeting of the club with Mrs. Robinson. It is an event which is look-ed forward to each year by the mem-bers with much anticipation and which always brings together a goodly num-ber of ladies, drawn by Mrs. Robin-son's charm as hostess. The meeting on Thursday was no exception to any of the others in respect to numbers or interest. Thirty-three out of the 43 members were in attendance, and four guests brought the number up to 37. The usual delicious luncheon was served by the committee-Mrs. Jennings (chairman), Mrs. Crandall and Geer, assisted by Mrs. Shipman, Keeney, Miss Stack and Miss Mathew-son. The table decorations were pink and white carnations—the society col-ors. In her prayer as chaplain, Mrs. Robinson referred lovingly to Mrs (* A. Bramble of New London, a former member of the club, who passed away since the last meeting, and the carna tions were voted sent, with many re-greis, to Mrs. Guilford Smith of South windham, who was prevented by illness from being present. The present officers of the club were re-elected—Mrs. Christopher Morgan, president; Mrs. Nelson D. Robinson, treasurer; Mins Phebe H. Brewster, secretary.
